About volunteering

Attendance

Your contribution helps to support many of our programs, services and activities. When making a commitment to volunteer it is important to be punctual and reliable. As a courtesy to volunteer colleagues, staff, clients and customers, please let your Volunteer Supervisor know as soon as possible if you are running late or are unable to attend a particular shift.

As a mandatory Work Health and Safety requirement it is important that you sign on when you arrive to undertake your duties and sign off at the end of your roster. This assists us in knowing where you are in case of an emergency and to make sure that we record your attendance for insurance purposes.

Volunteer Supervisors collate the number of volunteer hours to recognise your contribution and for annual reporting requirements.

Code of conduct

The general duty of the City of Adelaide volunteers is to act honestly and with reasonable care and diligence and to behave in a way that upholds council values, integrity and good reputation.

You will be given a copy of the Volunteer Code of Conduct to read and agree to during the online corporate induction training. You are encouraged to familiarise yourself with the code on an annual basis.

Communication with the media

Volunteers must refrain from making any comments regarding the council or council projects and initiatives with the print media, radio or digital social media.

If you are approached by media please inform them to contact the City of Adelaide Media Team who will assist them with their query.

This will remove the possibility that you are misquoted by the media and placed in a situation that may compromise you or the City of Adelaide.

Confidentiality

It is paramount that volunteers maintain appropriate confidentiality about dealings they have with the people they provide services to and the City of Adelaide business. Volunteers should maintain the confidentiality of any information they obtain and under no circumstances should this information be placed on social media.

Conflict of interest

It is important for volunteers to declare if they have self-interest, private affiliation or a likelihood of personal gain or loss in conjunction with their volunteer role. If you believe you have a conflict of interest, please contact the Volunteer Coordinator to advise the nature of a potential or realised conflict of interest.

Continuous improvement

City of Adelaide adopts the Australian National Standards for Volunteer Involvement to ensure we are providing safe and satisfying volunteering opportunities.

To keep us on track we encourage volunteers to tell us how well things are going, what could be improved and any new ideas you may have to improve our volunteer program.

We welcome volunteer involvement in decision making that affects volunteer roles. Please take advantage of opportunities to provide feedback in our biannual surveys and to your Volunteer Supervisor or the Volunteer Coordinator.

Dress code and name badges

Neat, clean casual dress that is suitable to the particular volunteer role is encouraged. Where a uniform is supplied as in the case for the Visitor Information Service the uniform must be worn. Thongs are not acceptable.

Volunteers are issued with a City of Adelaide photo identification name badge which must be worn when volunteering.

Volunteer Assistance Program

Registered volunteers can access this free confidential 24/7 counselling service paid for by council to help identify, explore and manage any issues impacting your life, which can include conflict and communication, stress and anxiety, relationship issues, grief and bereavement and elder care issues. Up to three 1 hour sessions, face to face, via phone, Zoom or live chat with a highly qualified psychologist can be arranged by phoning 1300 687 327.

More information can be found at humanpsychology.com.au

Fair treatment and grievance resolution

Everyone has the right to be treated fairly and be able to undertake their role without fear of harassment, discrimination, bullying or victimisation.

We make every effort to maintain an atmosphere of trust and open communication so grievances are resolved promptly and in a constructive, informal and respectful manner. We are guided by the Volunteer Fair Treatment in the Workplace and Grievance Resolution Operating Guidelines.

If you have a concern, you should contact your Volunteer Supervisor in the first instance. If you are not satisfied with the result of any informal discussions you are encouraged to contact the Volunteer Coordinator who will outline the formal internal and external options available.

Family volunteering

Family volunteering for specific roles are open to people under the age of 18 who are accompanied and supervised by a parent or guardian while undertaking the role. All parties become volunteers and must undergo the corporate volunteer services induction and on-site induction.

Holidays

Taking holidays is encouraged and is considered an important part of looking after yourself. Volunteer Supervisors need to know preferably one month in advance when volunteers intend to be absent from their role so a replacement can be found.

Insurance

It is council's responsibility to ensure that appropriate insurance cover is provided to protect volunteers, and the organisation against damage, loss and injury.

Council has the following insurances to cover you while working with us:

- Personal Accident Insurance provides specified benefits for registered volunteers following accidental injury, disability or death while carrying out their duties on behalf of council;
- Public Liability Insurance to cover council for its legal liability to third parties for personal injury or property damage caused by council's business activities;
- Professional Indemnity Insurance to cover council for professional negligence claims (e.g. caused by incorrect specialist advice);
- Motor Vehicle Comprehensive Insurance to cover City of Adelaide vehicles driven by volunteers or staff for damage to the vehicle or to third party property.

If you are required to lodge an insurance claim please contact your Volunteer Supervisor who will arrange for the necessary paperwork to be completed.

The Volunteer Protection Act 2001 provides all registered volunteers with personal liability cover while they are undertaking authorised volunteering duties on behalf of an incorporated organisation. The legislation aims to prevent a volunteer from incurring personal civil liability for any acts or omissions done in good faith when performing community work organised by a community organisation.

Personal circumstances

We appreciate the value of diversity in our volunteer force and welcome the involvement of people from all backgrounds. If you have any health or other personal circumstances that would require adjustments to the volunteer role you are undertaking, please let us know. We ask this in the interest of volunteer wellbeing and safety, to minimise personal strain or injury, and to ensure a positive and successful volunteer experience.

You may choose to disclose relevant information at interview or as needed if your circumstances change, to either the Volunteer Supervisor or the Volunteer Coordinator. You may choose to discuss this either face to face, via phone or in writing. Any disclosures made by volunteers regarding their personal health and circumstances will remain confidential and only shared with staff on a need-to-know basis.

Every effort will be made to adapt duties and negotiate flexible hours to suit individual requirements.

Similarly, to prevent the spread of influenza or other communicable illnesses we encourage volunteers to take time off from volunteering whilst infectious and still recovering.

Personal information

Volunteer information such as name, address, contact information, emergency contact details and the program they volunteer in, is stored in a database which has restricted access to authorised staff only.

Volunteers can access their personal profile by going to myimpactpage.com and logging in using the username and password they created during the online application stage. Volunteers must keep their profile and emergency contacts updated.

Working with Children check

CoA requires all volunteers hold WWCC clearances, the processing for which will be inclusive of a National Police Check. The purpose of the check is to verify the identity of potential volunteers and to minimise possible risk arising from engaging volunteers inappropriately.

The Volunteer Coordinator will initially and again every five years provide you with guidance on how to complete the online process. The cost of the check is covered by council.

Probation

A probationary period of three months applies when undertaking a new volunteer role. This allows time for both the volunteer and the team to get to know each other. During this time the volunteer and Volunteer Supervisor will decide on the suitability of the role.

Recruitment, induction and orientation

A comprehensive recruitment, induction and orientation program is provided to welcome and prepare volunteers to undertake their role.

The process begins with the vacancy being placed on the website where people can respond by completing an online application form. The Volunteer Supervisor and other members of the interview panel discuss the applications and select suitable candidates for an informal interview. Once the most suitable applicant has been chosen the Volunteer Coordinator guides the volunteer through the following stages.

We are committed to attracting volunteers that are representative of the community we serve. As such, we actively encourage and support the recruitment of volunteers with diverse range of experience including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, people with disability, people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds and those new to Adelaide.

We understand that some adjustments to the recruitment process and or the workplace may be required, to ensure that everyone has the same opportunity to perform at their best. We are happy to discuss individual requirements during the informal interview stage. Adjustments may include flexible starting and finishing times, negotiated duties, adjusted workspace and or a buddy/mentor.

Receiving of gifts or other benefits

Occasionally volunteers may be offered a thank you gift from a customer. Volunteers may accept gifts of a perishable nature such as flowers, chocolates or biscuits but must inform their Volunteer Supervisor about any gift they accept.

Volunteers must not accept non-perishable gifts, alcohol or money. If you have any queries or concerns regarding this, please contact the Volunteer Coordinator.

Recognition

Volunteer recognition events are held throughout the year to highlight, reward and recognise the value that volunteers make to the community. The main events are National Volunteer Week and the City of Adelaide Awards which are generally held towards the end of the year.

Corporate Induction

The corporate induction includes:

1. The completion of the on-line interactive volunteer induction modules including:

 - iii) Work Health and Safety Fundamentals
 - iiii) Be Security Smart Foundations

2. Receipt of the Volunteer handbook
3. Completing the Working with Children Check process

1. Information specific to the role including the signing in and out procedure
2. Emergency response procedures
3. Review of Work Health and Safety information
4. Introduction to staff and other volunteers and a tour of the site
5. Contact details of the Volunteer Supervisor

Orientation is a two-way process so volunteers are encouraged to ask questions and seek support from staff and volunteer peers.

Reimbursements

Volunteers will be reimbursed for pre-approved work related telephone and travel costs where appropriate.

A Metrocard for use on public transport is offered to all volunteers. A UPark voucher for selected council UParks are provided when public transport is not a suitable option.

Resignations

Notice of resignation should be communicated as soon as possible to the Volunteer Supervisor who will arrange an exit meeting to thank you for your contribution, discuss any issues and receive your ID badge, Metrocard, uniforms and/or safety items. A resignation period of one month would be appreciated, in order for the Volunteer Supervisor to prepare for your leaving.

Volunteers who are finding that their role is no longer fulfilling are encouraged to speak to the Volunteer Coordinator who may be able to match them to another position.

Role statement

Every volunteer role has a corresponding Role Statement that defines the role, lists the tasks, and outlines the experience, skills and qualities required to undertake the role. The Volunteer Coordinator will give you a copy of the respective role statement during the induction process for you to read and sign.

Supervision and support

Each volunteer team has a Volunteer Supervisor who is responsible to guide and oversee volunteers in their work programs.

Volunteer Supervisors provide you support by:

- Giving encouragement and constructive feedback
- Organising meetings to discuss performance and development and issues of concern
- Offering meetings and training with other volunteers who may be working in a similar role
- Sharing feedback from customers or other stakeholders on aspects of service delivery
- Considering your interest in decisions that affect you
- Inviting you to team meetings, special events and social functions
- Celebrating your achievements and efforts
- Where appropriate, provide a reference or act as a referee to your prospective employer

Training

Council will provide the necessary training for volunteers to undertake the role. This is largely in the format of on-the-job training and is provided by the Volunteer Supervisor. Additional training, identified as important or what is necessary to meet legislative requirements, will be provided.

Volunteer benefits

As a valued volunteer, you can take advantage of a range of benefits under the employee benefits program as well as join the City of Adelaide Social Club. You will be given a list of the benefits during the induction process.

The Social Club is open to employees and volunteers for the cost of a 6 month $39 membership or a 12 month $78 membership. It provides a great opportunity to meet fellow colleagues and to receive discounts on events and activities in and around the city as well as being included in free weekly raffles.

If you would like to join the Social Club, please request a membership form by contacting the Volunteer Coordinator.

Work health and safety

The Work Health and Safety Act 2012 nominates volunteers as 'workers' requiring the same attention to work health and safety requirements as paid employees. Volunteers and staff have a duty to be mindful of their own safety and the safety of others around them.

Council's Management of Incidents procedure stipulates that volunteers involved in a workplace accident or who are injured while on duty must firstly ensure their personal safety as a priority.

Any incident, near miss or hazard identification must immediately be reported to their Volunteer Supervisor. Further to this, it is important to report anything that has caused or has the potential to cause harm to a person or damage to property.

In the event of inclement weather the Volunteer Supervisor will instruct volunteers on the best course of action.

Volunteers will be required to complete a 20 minute on-line interactive Work Health and Safety module prior to commencing their role.
