BIN COLLECTION GUIDELINES

Together, we are working toward a more circular economy where we reduce our waste going to landfill and recycle and compost more.

That's why the City of Adelaide provides a regular kerbside collection service for residents, which includes a green organics bin, yellow recycling bin, a red waste bin and an at-call hard waste service.

For more details, visit:

citvofadelaide.com.au/residentwaste-recycling

HAVE YOU GOT YOUR KITCHEN CADDY YET?

Did you know more than 30% of material placed in the red waste bin is food scraps that could have been composted?

A kitchen caddy can be used at home, often on the kitchen bench, to help collect food scraps, making it easier to use your green organics bin.

The materials in your kerbside green organics bin are turned into mulch and compost for gardens, orchards and vineyards, helping reduce your carbon footprint and create a more circular economy.

Further information about the process can be found on the last page of this booklet.

City of Adelaide residents can collect a kitchen caddy and compostable liners from City of Adelaide community centres, libraries, or the Customer Centre at 25 Pirie Street Adelaide.

THE FOOD RECYCLING PROCESS

When you put food waste in your green bin, it gets turned into something great for farmers and gardeners.

The resulting compost is used on South Australian farms, vineyards and orchards to grow our food.

FOOD
RECYCLING

You create and collect food scraps and the cycle begins again.

After your green bin is emptied, the food and garden organic materials are taken to a composting facility.

Screening is done to remove contaminants such as plastic, textiles, glass and metal. Over 8 – 10 weeks, with the help of microbes, water, oxygen and the right temperature, the materials break down.
