HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION:

This house is an excellent example of an 1890s-1920s residence of a transitional design. It retains important stylistic elements including sandstone wall construction, combined with hipped and gabled roof form, corrugated iron roof, face brick chimneys, quoins and trim to windows and doors, a verandah with decorative cast iron brackets.

The Smith Survey shows that Little Margaret Street, as this northern end was known, as being well built up by 1880. This house remains an important indication of the type of residences constructed in the subsequent decades, some of which, like this one were transitional in that they retained some elements of earlier house design.

STATEMENT OF HERITAGE VALUE:

This house is an important example of the type of residences constructed in North Adelaide during the 1890s-1920s, and reflects the design, details and building materials commonly in use at that time.

The significant number of stone and brick residences, like this house, constructed between 1890 and 1920 throughout this section of the city, are an important element of the distinctive historic residential character of North Adelaide.

RELEVANT CRITERIA (under Section 23(4) of the Development Act, 1993):

- (a) This house displays historical and social themes that are of importance to North Adelaide as it represents the continued construction of residences on recently subdivided Town Acres, particularly during the 1890s-1920s.
- (d) This house displays aesthetic merit and design characteristics of significance to North Adelaide as it is a typical Edwardian residence of a transitional design, displaying consistent use of typical materials such as masonry walls, face brick and decorative cast iron elements.

EXTENT OF LISTING:

Original external form, materials and details of this symmetrical Edwardian transitional masonry residence, including walls, verandah and roof form associated with the house style.

NOTE: The 'Description of Place and Elements of Heritage Value' listed in the Adelaide (City) Development Plan for this property is as follows:
